CLARESHOLM UNSURPASSED FOR CROP PROSPECTS IN THE WHOLE DOMINION

Mr. W. J. Black, Commissioner of Agriculture for the Dominion Department of Agriculture and Administrator of the Funds voted under the Agricultural Act, has recently visited every part of the Dominion in his investigations as to crop prospects. He has therefore had a special opportunity to view present harvest conditions, and being a trained agriculturalist, his judgment is of considerable value. In a letter from the Department of Agriculture, dated August 22, the publicity commissioner, Mr. Chas. Hotchkiss, says that Mr. Black, frankly stated to the department, that the "Claresholm district was unsurpassed for crop prospects in the whole of our Dominion." This is a tribute to the excellency of the Claresholm district that we might well be proud of.

Fourteen years ago Claresholm district was considered unwise for agricultural purposes. The first farmers who settled here had their hard times, and many convinced of the unsuitability of the country pulled up stakes and left. There were others, happily, who knew what to expect in a new country, who stayed right with their farms, and in the darkest times held on confident of the future of the country.

Now Claresholm district is coming to its own. We were the first in the whole Dominion to ship out a million bushels of wheat. Last year we went away past the million mark, and the prospect is, that the big crop of last year, will look small when all the returns are in for this present season.

We have now reached a stage in our history when we should plan permanent homes. In the past too many have planned to make a little money and get out, and consequently little has been done to beautify the homes and develop the social life of the community. It is beginning, however, to dawn upon us that Claresholm district can be made one of the best places in the world to live in, and that it is well to add permanency to our plans for the future. Some of our farmers are equipping their farms with modern conveniences, installing electric light and power plants, planting trees, making lawns, putting up good houses and barns. This is as it should be, and we believe, that with a continuance of good years such as the present, that Claresholm district will not only be noted as a wheat producing centre, but as one of the most progressive and up-to-date communities in the west.

Blessed as we are with education, institutions, with the best agricultural land in the west, with climate unequalled, and with mountain and prairie scenery of matchless beauty, surely it is worth while putting a little energy into the work of beautifying our town and country, and bringing to our homes all the conveniences that are within our reach.

Hill Breezes

The hail storm that passed over here was rather freaky catching some of the more wealthy ones along quality ridge, and with the south east. Among those caught are A. E. Fletcher, C. E. Tweed, C. B. Kewler, Mrs. A. Smith and G. Fletcher.

Mr. J. Remington has been out with his binder cutting grain for some of the neighbors.

Mrs. R. Field is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Remington, at Line Kiln Ridge.

The new barn of C. E. Tweed is not yet completed on account of the lack of roofing lumber at the mill.

Mr. A. E. Fletcher is preparing to start out with the butcher wagon. He will be busy selling meat all through the threshing season this year.

Mr. Jas. Barley, who lately joined the bandits, is now working for G. Fletcher.

Mr. C. E. Tweed is mourning over the lack of work on account of the fall harvesting the crop in his home place. The crop on his other place, however, is good, so don't mourn Claude.

It is to be hoped that some of the more idle ones in this district will keep off the telephone until their ring is called. It is not very nice to try to talk to your girl and some one else listening.

The repair man has got around at last and has done some work on the line which was badly needed.

Harvesting will be in full swing in this district next week. Some are already cutting. Haying is about completed.

CORRESPONDENCE

Mr. Billor—Stavelyites reared their head off about having to pay 30 cents to get into the fair grounds here, and they had the gall to charge 30 cents to see the ball game in their park, last Thursday, and at that had to get Calgary to get them in losing the game.

Mr. R. Gibb, of Eastwood, Ont., who has been visiting at Round Up, leaves for home this week.

Andrew Pauly is visiting at the home of Mrs. A. Smith for a few days.

Melbourne Baird is staying with his Uncle at Pine Creek, and is attending school.

There will be a harvest festival at Robertson church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

"Charley's Aunt"

The stage has never given us a play that contains as much clean fun as "Charley's Aunt." Delightful, infectious comedy bubbles and ripples through its three hilarious acts of splendid fun, born of plausible and possible situations, knit together by the most brilliant dialogue and brought to a satisfying climax in excellent style. Brandon Thomas when he wrote "Charley's Aunt" builded better than he knew. Some critics claim that he created a "theatrical classic" that will be handed down to posterity as one of the greatest farces conceived. Be that as it may, there is no doubt about its lasting popularity.

The United Producing Company presents it at the Opera House Saturday, Sept. 2nd, with a clever English and American Company. Special scenery will enhance the production which is said to be elaborate.

School Opens

The public school opened last Monday with a good attendance of scholars. The new principal, D. H. McKenzie, B.A., comes well recommended, and with considerable experience both in city and country schools. His staff of teachers are all new except Miss Porter, who will have charge of the primary departments. The other teachers are, Miss Thompson, Miss Himes, Miss G. D. Evans and Miss Hutchison, B.A.

At the Rex

The "White Terror" which was shown at the Rex, this week, was an educational play that was worthy of a crowded house. It exposed the under-ground methods too often used by the big corporations to cover up their sins. The company was the manufacturer of a fake consumption cure. The employees were under paid, and forced to work under the most unsanitary conditions. The editor who dared to expose the fraud was persecuted and finally his plant was dynamited.

The daughter of the head of the firm at length contracted the white plague. It was then that the father learned of the uselessness of the drugs that he had been manufacturing, and as an act of repentance built a sanatorium where consumptives could live in the fresh air and sunshine, the only known remedies for the disease.

The story from beginning to end was intensely interesting and full of good moral lessons. The pictures that followed of the force police expedition, the floods at various places in the U.S., of President Wilson and the crowds that listened to his speeches during the "Repeal" agitation, these alone were well worth the cost of admission.

What it Would Mean

A general strike on virtually all the railways in the United States, paralyzing commerce and throwing out 2,000,000 train engine men out of employment, may possibly be averted through the action of Congress before 7 a.m. on Labor Day, the date on which the strike order has been issued to take effect.

A troop would stop 230,000 miles of roads, employing 800,000 persons directly affected, of whom 350,000 are in the train service.

It would make idle 64,000 locomotives, 53,000 passenger cars and 2,300 freight cars.

It would keep at home 3,000,000 passengers a day, and would halt the transportation of 6,000,000 tons of freight a day.

It would stop earnings on more than $20,000,000,000.00 of railway rental, and would cut off six days pay for 1,000,000 passenger and freight receipts.

It would stop the export of American products at the rate of $10,000,000 a day.

The Control of Weeds

The Names and Habits of All Common Weeds Should Be Studied

Weeds are the robbers of the plant world. They creep into the fields and rob the plants of moisture, light, and place-fodder. They often crowd out good clovers and grasses in our meadows and pastures.

Every farm boy should learn the names and habits of the common weeds. Whenever one is found that looks as if it might be a weed, it should be promptly identified. If possible, the farmer should be told what to do with it. The Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has information concerning its control.

Among the commonest field weeds is the waxy spiny grass as foxtail. It is a kind of wild millet which grows from seed and lives only one year.

It is not a serious weed except when wet weather in June prevents land from being cultivated.

Most of the common weeds which infest cultivated crops live only one year. They produce less seed than weeds which live for two or three years. These live long enough in the ground to seed even after four or five years of mowing or pasture they are still able to do damage to cultivated crops.

There is no easy way to get the best of weeds. The crops should be kept as clean as they conveniently can. The land should be kept as a cultivator cannot be depended upon to destroy all the weeds. The Dutch or pink top is an invaluable asset for this purpose.

In some sections the weeds which live from year to year and spread by underground roots are the worst. These are the trouble-makers. Quack grass, Canada thistle, horse-nettle, and morning glory are the worst weeds of this type. These pests have about as much light in them as the annual weeds.

If they are cut off at the surface of the ground they come up again and again. But if you keep it long enough you can kill them. Land infested with this kind of weed is sometimes best put in alfalfa or pasture. Frequent mowing is hard on them.

Pastures and meadows have weeds which generally do not bother corn. Sorrel, dock, ragwort and buckhorn are the common weeds of this type. In alfalfa, blue grass, and timothy. Most pasture and meadow weeds live over year after year.

Farm Graters

Ravages of Parasites on Farm Animals Should Be Checked.

To get to the heart of the matter of someone else. If the one at whose expense the grating is done knows of the kind of parasite that has been found, it is done without any further delay. It is done without any further delay. It is done without any further delay.

The parasites found on farm animals and plants are criminal graters and should be checked. When found, the extreme penalties should be exacted. When found, for farming is a war.

Teaching a Boy to Swim

What to Do and What Not to Do to Establish Confidence in the Beginner.

There is a prevailing notion, especially in the case of certain parents, that the surest and quickest way to teach a boy to swim is to throw him in over his head and let him go to it. Probably a surer way to destroy a boy's confidence in the water has never been devised.

Thousands of boys are thrown in the water without knowing how to swim, and have conceived a fear of the water by this foolishly method that nothing has ever been able to remove. No confidence is ever secured by a violent introduction, and the father who thinks along this line is teaching his boy to swim is making a fundamental mistake which he and his boy will regret for years.

The wise father or teacher of swimming should win his boy's confidence by first getting him accustomed to the shallow water. The boy then gradually have the boy come in the water in deeper and deeper water until the young swimmer hardly knows when he has ventured beyond his own depth. This is the surest method of teaching boys how to swim, and it is the only method and safe way. It is a method which has been used by the only method and safe way. It is a method which has been used by the only method and safe way.

Many of our readers will for all time retain pleasant memories of the big baseball match played last week. The first night many suffered from insomnia and a vacuum in the pocket book, but now everybody smiles. There were 215 autos on the grounds, 2000 people in attendance and $100 in gate receipts. The game lasted 229 minutes and ran for 10 innings and was marked from beginning to end by protests from Nanton. The score stood at 11-13 in favor of the Spectators. The common verdict of the spectators was that Stavely had them beaten, but got over confident. There was some poor playing on both sides, and had Stavely put up her usual game she would have won out easily.
